

TriRod Motorcycles launches the F3 Adrenaline, world's first production performance three wheel motorcycle

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

San Diego, California – December 5, 2007 – Today TriRod Motorcycles announced the F3 Adrenaline, the world's first production performance three wheel motorcycle. (<http://www.trirodmotorcycles.com>)

TriRod Motorcycles set out to create a radical new vehicle that would offer unparalleled performance. By combining advanced technologies from Formula 1 racing, aerospace, and motorcycles, TriRod developed this groundbreaking three wheel motorcycle.

With a low center of gravity and a wide track, the F3 Adrenaline is exceptionally stable and corners aggressively. TriRod engineers chose the 2-1 layout (2 wheels in front, 1 in back) over the traditional 1-2 trike configuration for its superior handling, stability, and rollover resistance.

The F3 Adrenaline's styling is raw and minimalistic, flowing from its mechanical underpinnings. Carbon fiber body panels, fully adjustable racing shocks, and exposed suspension components reinforce the aggressive nature of the product.

Robert Miller, TriRod Motorcycles Co-founder and Chairman, states, 'TriRod's platform offers increased safety and stability over traditional motorcycles while adding a whole new level of thrilling performance.'

Keith Berryman, owner of Big Bike Motorcycles of Jacksonville, Florida - TriRod's first dealer, states, "This is the most exciting product to come along in years. We cater to a segment of the motorcycle market that embraces forward thinking and exotic products like the F3 Adrenaline. We estimate this platform will start an entirely new industry and we want to be a part of that."

"We believe motorcycle and car enthusiasts are looking for something new and exciting," says Paul Seiter, CEO of TriRod Motorcycles, "the TriRod platform offers people a whole new way to enjoy motorcycling."

TriRod's F3 Adrenaline is the first of a line of tandem seat three wheel performance motorcycles under development. The company is taking orders now for the 2008 F3 Adrenaline, which is scheduled to start shipping during the 2nd quarter of 2008.
